BALTIMORE, April 7 .- Jack Dunn and his Orioles had hopes of getting a decision over the Giants until the eighth inning of this afternoon's game when the big leaguers emerged from a batting slump and collected seven runs. The score was 9 to 4, the birds leading 4 to 2 up to the big inning. ch trial, as two great exponents of the spitball, James Dygert and Bugs Raymond, were headliners. Dygert made a mistake in attempting to go the full route. Last mason he lost many games by weakening in the stretch and to-day he held the Giants to five hits and two runs up to the eighth. His own unsteadiness and poor support broke up the game. Raymond worked the last four innings and was effective, the Field. The grounds were in bad condition and the ground bails were very hard to handle owing to the mugginess and uncertainty of the field. The score, 12 to 4, was largely the result of slow fielding and poor throwing, as Vermont got only six hits and Manhattan four Hanley was wild and was relieved in the fifth inning. Thompson, who succeeded him, retired in favor of Stocker, a freshman pitcher, who handled himself creditably, not allowing a semblance of a hit while he was in the box. Winkler pitched well for the Vermont collegians, proving himself quite a mud horse. Manhattan plays the Yankees at American League Park on Tuesday afternoon.

New York State League. Manager Chase and his men were cheered here by the first cloudless sky and bright sunshine they have seen since they started on the trip north and they look forward to a hard practice game in good weather to-morrow. Satcher Sweeney did not accompany the learn here, as he is slightly ill, but went on to New York, where he will rest until the learn reaches there. His illness is not serious. Manager Chase says his other men are all in good condition. To-morrow's game will be the first that the Wilkesbarre team has played, although the men have put in a bard week's practice.

Lejeune, the player who was injured in Knoxville in an anto accident, is still in the hospital and Pavidson is West with his wife, who is to indergo an operation. Although the men were scheduled to play a practice game this atternoon it had to be called off. The team was without uniforms. They were lost in a train wreck near Lynchburg and no trace of them was to be had.

Seventh Regiment Vs. Columbia. Columbia will meet the Seventh Regiment on South Field this afternoon in the fourth same of the season for the Blue and White nine. The postponement of the midweek vame with St. John's College, made necessary because of the weather, has tempo-tarily solved the pitching problem that has been worrying Dave Fultz, and Murray Lee will probably start the game and will later be relieved by Church or Rothwell. Capt. Osterhout's ankle is still hurting him and he will not take part in the game thiess an emergency arises where his bitting is urgently needed.

ORIOLES CAUSE A SCARE YANKEE CUBS CLOSE CALL. Defeat Jersey City Team by Score of 10 to 9.

The New York Americans' second team in charge of Duke Farrell, made their first appearance in the Yankees' home territory yesterday by taking a fall out of Jack Ryan's Jersey City Skeeters after spirited action at West Side Park, Jersey City winning out by a score of 10 to 9.

There was plenty of class to the work performed by Farrell's recruits, and the more experienced members of the home team were kept continually on the jump by the speedy fielding and heavy hitting of the youngsters. The Skeeters fought hard for the decision and twice led in the scoring, but the Yankee combination came strong in the finish and with four runs in the eighth inning stowed the game away. New York depended upon Warhop and Ravelle as gunners, the former working five innings. Ravelle was hit on the arm by a line drive from Deininger's bat in the ninth inning with one man out and King Brockett, who has just been reinstated by the National Commission and played in right field for the Yanks, was sent in as substitute and pulled his associates through after Roach's error had permitted two runs to cross the plate.

"Having tried repeatedly to get a match with Knockout Brown for Owen Moran it through personal conversation with the former's manager, Dan Morgan, and also through the different club managers who have tried to induce Brown to box Moran, I was both interested and surprised to see long published statements from Brown's manager claiming that he was ready to match Brown with any or all of the lightweights now before the public.
